[redacted]
[redacted] a pipe line led from the Coke Chemical Plant [redacted] to the Military Plant and that ammonia was being piped to the Military Plant. [redacted]

[redacted] The Military Plant was surrounded by a barbed wire fence and was probably guarded [redacted]

[redacted] only free workers
(no prisoners) were employed there. At some time in the early part of 1952, two men who said they were from the Military Plant came to the Metal Testing Workshop (Opytnyy metallurgicheskiy tsekh) [redacted] to conduct some tests which lasted several days. They [redacted] had some material which they heated in one of the stoves. [redacted]

[redacted] when it was removed from the stove it was a dark gray powder. After this they worked in Room 8 on the first floor of the Metal Testing Workshop.
Nobody was permitted to enter the room in which they worked.
Although they were free workers, these two men appeared worse-clothed and worse-fed than many of the prisoners. The only mention either of them made of the Military Plant was that one of them said something about having lost track of a shipment of wood veneer destined for the plant.
